Jonah and the Whale vs. The Consumers' Picnic Sale.
—The whale that swallowed

JONAH

evidently took Jonah to be a good thing. History does not state whether or not the whale took Jonah from a "bargain counter," but the eagerness shown in the taking would indicate as much.

Reasoning from the standpoint of Sherlock Holmes, we must draw largely from our stock of imagination, in which case, the whale must be credited with poor judgment. He took the whale into his confidence too suddenly. It is reasonable to suppose that he took him with his clothes on. Had he wished to take Jonah for "keeps" he should have asked him to disrobe and take a bath. How could a whale's digestion be expected to take hold of Jonah with a homespun suit on and a soiled shirt perhaps, who knows? Jonah had not the opportunity of visiting the "Consumers' Picnic Sale" where three 50c Shirts are had for $1.00. Also three $1.00 Shirts for $2.00. Thus he could not be expected to wear a clean shirt every day just for the sake of tempting the appetite and making a good appearance in the belly of a whale which might choose to swallow him at short notice.

The difference between the eagerness of the said whale in behalf of Jonah and the earnest confidential public who are climbing over each other after the shirt bargains at the "Consumers' Picnic Sale" is that the whale was dealing with the uncertainties of a "blind pool" while the public is dealing with plain facts before their open eyes.

Inasmuch as the whale had but one Jonah to select from (and a slippery one at that) his chances for success were "not in it" as compared to the chances of the public in this "give away" shirt sale. When the sale began last Tuesday at 3 p. m. there were 3294 Shirts, 2136 of which were to be sold and 1068 given away. You pay for two 50c Shirts and get three. You pay for two $1.00 Shirts and get three. 153 Shirts sold after 3 p. m. on opening day.

MORAL—Do not deal with slippery Jonahs.

Buy your bargains at "The Consumers' Picnic Sale."

LOCAL NEWS.

If you see it in the Townsman, it's news to be relied upon; if it is news and so, you'll see it in the Townsman.

Tonight will be observed at the Andover club as "Ladies' Night."

Mrs. Thomas Wilkenson of Dover, N. H., visited relatives in Frye Village this week.

Ray Cole has severed his connection with Valpey Bros. and James McDonald has taken his place.

The annual meeting of the Free church parish will be held in the small vestry next Monday evening.

The annual meeting and supper of the Free church will be held on next Wednesday evening, in the vestry.

Philip Hardy is again able to be around, having sufficiently recovered from the effects of a fractured leg.

Many local farmers attended the institute which was held by the Essex Agricultural society in Newburyport last Friday.

Tree Warden J. H. Playdon has been at work with his men, this week, cutting brown-tail moth nests from the trees in the Square.

Tickets are on sale for the Y.M.C.A. concert and ball which is to be held in the Town hall on Friday evening, February 10.

The New England Telephone and Telegraph company have had a gang of men at work in the Square, this week, placing the telephone wires underground.

Charles P. Marshall of the Theological Seminary has been secured by the committee in charge of Boys' work to superintend the Boys' club at the Andover Guild.

Miss Ruby S. Copeland who, on account of illness did not teach in the public schools during the fall term, has returned to her duties improved in health.

All members of Walter L. Raymond Camp, No. 111, are requested to appear in uniform on Friday evening, January 20, as the officers elect will be installed. Refreshments will be served.

The Tuesday club met noon January 10 at the home of Mrs. George E. Hussey, Chestnut street; theme, "Titian." The work of the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Hussey, aided by Mrs. Corwin, Palmer and Miss Alice Jenkins.

A special meeting of the Andover Y.M.C.A. was held Monday afternoon, Jan. 10, at 8 o'clock, to complete arrangements for a gentlemen's night. All members are urged to be present. Tea will be served as usual, Mrs. Geo. Holt, chairman.

J. Duke Smith gave an interesting talk on his trip through British Columbia, before the Young Men's club of the Free church last Monday evening. The lecture was illustrated with stereopticon views many of which were taken by Mr. Smith this summer.

The second entertainment in the Punched Alumni course will be held on Thursday evening when F. Hopkinson Smith will give readings from his own works. Mr. Smith's writings are too well known to need an introduction and all who hear the author will surely have a great treat.

The address which was to have been given before the members of the Andover Burns club, last Saturday evening, by Rev. Mr. Smith, of Lawrence, was postponed owing to the disagreeable weather. The committee intend to hear Mr. Smith in the near future, but the exact date has not been fixed.

The installation of officers of Andover Council No. 65, Royal Arcanum will be held this evening in Arcanum hall. The installing officers will be Past Grand Regent Charles W. Clark who has been appointed Special Deputy by Grand Regent Foye. A collation will be served at the close of the installing exercises.

The second institute of the Essex Agricultural society for the year 1905, will be held in Grange hall, Andover, on Friday, Jan. 20, beginning at 10 o'clock, a. m. Subject for forenoon, "Odds and Ends or How to Make Money"; after noon at 1.30, "The Farmers vs. Education," by Hon. Merriek A. Morse, of Belchertown, Mass. Ladies especially invited.

On Tuesday evening, January the 24th, at eight o'clock, in Davis Hall, McKean Memorial Building, the day scholars of Abbot Academy will present a Japanese comedy, entitled "The Revenge of Shari-Hot-Su." The play is to be given for the benefit of the day scholars' room in the McKean Memorial Building, and it is hoped that all friends of the school will show their interest by attending the play. Tickets are 35 cents and will be on sale at the Bookstore, Friday, January the 20th, and also may be had at the door.

The telephone, which, with its surrounding appliances, ranks among the most delicate and complicated of electrical devices, is like the simple electric doorbell in one particular. Both may be used by a child who has not even the simplest knowledge of electricity, and the telephone is habitually used by persons who can neither read nor write. Thousands who use the lines of the Bell telephone system do not understand English, and in some places central offices have been established for their particular benefit, as, for instance, in San Francisco, where there is an exchange with Chinese operators.

Norman Smith returned to Exeter, N. H., Wednesday, for the winter term of Phillips Exeter Academy.

Miss Ethel Clark is filling the position of teacher in the Bradlee school during Miss Cecilia Kydd's illness.

Judge Aiken, of Greenfield, promoted to the chief justiceship of the supreme court, by Gov. Douglas, is a cousin of Mrs. George Ripley.

The regular meeting of the Directors of the Andover Guild was held on Tuesday evening when reports from officers of the various departments were read.

Edwin L. Perley, who has been spending the last few months in California, will resume his duties as station agent at the local B. & M. station next Monday.

Miss Whitman, instructor in drawing in the public schools, is to begin classes in drawing and other forms of manual training at the Guild on Monday evening.

Marion, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira B. Hill, fell while playing in the cellar of her home on Salem street last Saturday, breaking her arm in two places.

At the next meeting of the Young Men's club of the Free church held on Monday evening, Edwin T. Brewster will deliver an address on the "Human Machine."

The social and chaffing dish supper which was to have been held in Christ church parish house Wednesday evening, was postponed on account of the church supper coming on Tuesday evening.

Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D., president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union, will preach at the South church on Sunday morning. In the evening the pastor will officiate. Miss Alice Mahan of Lawrence will be the soloist.

There will be a Union meeting for men in the vestry of the Free church on Sunday afternoon at 3.30. It is hoped that all young men of the town will be present. John R. Boardman of New York, who is a very forceful speaker, will preside.

Celebrates Eightieth Birthday.

A number of relatives and friends of Lewis F. Bodwell tendered him a surprise party on Tuesday evening in honor of his eightieth birthday. When all had gathered at his home on Park street Mrs. Andrew McTernan in behalf of the relatives, presented Mr. Bodwell with a fine easy chair.

Mrs. James Anderson read a poem written for the occasion and afterward a social time made the hours pass very pleasantly. During the evening refreshments were served.

Mr. Bodwell is a well known citizen of this town, having lived here for many years. For a long time he conducted a painting business, but a few years ago he retired. He enjoys his retirement.

The Second Abbot Academy Recital.

The second Abbot Academy recital will take place on Thursday afternoon, January 20, in the November Club house.

The Kneisel quartet, who enjoy playing in Andover and whom it is always a pleasure to hear, will play the Beethoven quartet in C major, opus 59, No. 3, which aroused such enthusiasm in Boston at their last concert there, and a cello solo by Mr. Schroeder will undoubtedly be upon the program. In addition to the Quartet, there will be a fine pianist, as on their last visit to Andover, so that a piano quartet or a quintet will be possible.

The entire program will, it is hoped, be published in the next issue of the Townsman.

Notice.

The annual meeting of the Indian Ridge Association will be held Friday, January 20, at 7.30 p. m., in the School Committee room of the Town hall. All who contributed to securing the Reservation are counted members of the Association and will be cordially welcome.

ALICE BUCK,

Clerk.

January 11, 1905.

ABBOTT VILLAGE.

Alexander Brown is competing at the Plymouth Poultry show.

Mamie Auchterlonie arrived on Thursday morning on S. S. Saxonia from Brechin, Scotland.

John Hart, assistant fireman at Smith & Dove mills, has been confined to his home for the past two weeks with sickness.

The Independent Order of Good Templars will give a series of concerts for the benefit of a fund to organize a juvenile lodge in the village. The first concert will be given tomorrow evening in the Village hall. The admission fee will be ten cents; children, five cents. Some good talent has been engaged for the occasion, and a good time may be expected.

WEST PARISH.

Mrs. E. G. Hardy and Mrs. E. W. Boutwell are confined to their respective homes by an attack of the grip.

Mrs. Georgiana Chase has been spending the week with her mother, Mrs. Mary Chase.

Mrs. J. W. Henderson visited friends in Worcester last Monday.

William Fletcher at the Hood Farm is reported to be very ill at his home with pneumonia.

Mrs. Carrie Irving of Caribou, Me., is visiting Mrs. J. W. Henderson.

E. W. Burrill installed the newly elected officers at the Haverhill Grange on Wednesday evening.

There will be meeting of the Literary Club in the vestry on Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

A Farmers' Institute will be held at the local grange, next Friday forenoon and afternoon.

Mrs. Frank H. Hardy has returned from a two weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs. J. D. Downing of Lawrence.

Lecture to Mothers' Club.

The Andover Mothers' club held their regular meeting Friday afternoon, Jan. 6, at the new kindergarten rooms, which were found very convenient and roomy.

Mrs. Hitchcock from the Hull House, North End, Boston, gave a very interesting talk about her work in that settlement. She said the people were foreigners, a great many Jews, Italians and Irish among them. The people are very poor and it is very hard for them to get work. The women scrub floors, sometimes working all night, and supporting large families. In many cases they are huddled together, in a few rooms, sometimes two large families occupying two rooms together. There is a great deal of drinking among them and this, in a great measure, the reason of their extreme poverty. This House, of which Mrs. Hitchcock is a worker, hold mothers' meetings and teach these poor women to make their own and children's clothes. And they live right among them, helping them in every way possible. Mrs. Hitchcock is a very bright woman and her talk was very much enjoyed by all. A very interesting social time followed. Tea and cake were served by Mrs. Ralph, Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Johnson.

Grange Officers Installed.

The installation of officers of the Andover Grange took place on Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Ladd, wife of State Lecturer Ladd, was the installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Walter H. Hayes of North Andover.

At the conclusion of the work a bountiful turkey supper was served. Many visiting grangers were present. The list of officers installed is to be found in another column.

The first payment of the Abbott Village Coal society was taken last Friday evening in the Abbott Village hall, when 122 members were enrolled, representing 320 tons of coal. The indications are that the society will be larger this year than ever.

Mrs. Jane Campbell is quite seriously ill.

Raymond Billington has been confined to his home by illness this week.

Miss Nora Hartigan of Brookline was the guest Sunday of Miss Kate O'Neil.

The Y. M. C. T. A. will hold a whist party in their room Saturday evening, Jan. 21. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The local Good Templars are busy rehearsing a three-act temperance drama, which promises to be the hit of the season. Full particulars later.

Frank Halstead is a member of the Mass. Normal Art School glee club, which last Monday evening gave such a successful entertainment in Copley Hall, Boston.

Joseph Cummings fell on the ice Sunday and received quite a severe injury. During his absence this week Joseph Lynch has been doing his work at the station.

Miss Jeannie Donovan met with a severe accident Wednesday afternoon. Some children were coasting near her home and not noticing them, she was hit by a sled and thrown to the ground, breaking her collar bone. Dr. Abbott is in attendance.

The special union meetings were continued this week. A union meeting was held in the Methodist, Thursday evening and a union service will be held in the Congregational church this evening. A union meeting will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

At a recent meeting of the Y. M. C. T. A., the following named persons were elected officers for the ensuing term: President, William J. Wheatley; vice president, David F. Burns; secretary, Thomas O'Donnell; treasurer, Thomas Caffrey; sergeant at arms, William Galvin; standing committee, Richard J. Sherry, Joseph Lynch, Joseph Wheatley, William McKeon, Michael Flaherty.

METHODIST FAIR.

The annual fair of the Methodist Ladies' Aid society will be held in Bradlee hall next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Jan. 17 and Jan. 18. The entertainment Tuesday evening will consist of songs by Fred Urquhart of Wakefield, and other features. On Wednesday evening William Boodle of Haverhill, will furnish the entertainment in a characteristically pleasing and captivating manner. The usual tables will be in evidence.

Season tickets, 25 cents. Single admission, adults 15, children 10. The public is very cordially invited to attend.

At the semi-annual business meeting of the local Christian Endeavor society the following named persons were elected officers and chairmen of the several committees for the ensuing term: Officers, president, Daniel H. Poor; vice president, Roy M. Haynes; secretary, Miss Stella Herrick; treasurer, Miss Marjorie Davies; cor. sect., Mrs. William Shaw; organist, Miss Adele Matthews; assistant organist, Miss Isabel Miller; committees, welcome, Mrs. J. H. Smith; watch, Mrs. John S. Dearborn; prayer meeting, William Shaw; social, Mrs. Roy M. Haynes; missionary and temperance, Miss Lizzie M. Rowland; junior, Miss Adele Matthews; flower, Mrs. Mary E. Herrick; music, Miss Adele Matthews.

The sixth number in the Bradlee course was given last Wednesday evening consisting of a concert by the Schubert Male quartet, composed of the following artists: Robert Martin, first tenor; Charles W. Swaine, second tenor; Wm. W. Walker, baritone and accompanist; Dr. George R. Clark, basso; assisted by Miss Adelaide B. Jump, reader. The singing of the quartet was remarkably fine, their clear harmony being a treat to all. Miss Jump proved herself an A 1 reader and in her specialty (impersonation of children) she has never been excelled by anyone ever heard in this vicinity.

THE RETURN OF SHERLOCK HOLMES.

The friends of Sherlock Holmes—end, of course, they are legion—will be glad to know that the new book of his adventures, "The Return of Sherlock Holmes," is to be brought early in February by McClure-Phillips. It will contain thirteen stories, and will be illustrated by Charles Raymond Macaulay. Sherlock Holmes has certainly improved with age. In these thirteen new tales he is even more astute, brilliant and astounding than ever before. He has kept pace with his readers, and offers them far more complex problems than of yore, which he unravels with even greater deftness. The same mystery, the same impending perils, the same hair-breadth escapes that thrilled in former volumes are present in this new one.

"Oh! Ouch! Stop that!" yelled Tommy.
"Why, Tommy, aren't you ashamed?" exclaimed his mother. "I wouldn't cry like that if it were my hair that was being combed."
"I'll bet you would if I wuz doin' the combin'," replied Tommy fiercely.

THE PLIGHT OF RUSSIA.

Autocrat among autocrats, and grand beneficiary of a tremendous system of oppression, is the Czar Nicholas II. Peering for his life, he is like clay in the hands of the Grand Duke.

Diminutive and insignificant, when he stands at full height he must peer up to see the eyes of a woman. He has an inherent weakness that approaches effeminacy. His voice squeaks in a high falsetto. His education has been grievously neglected, for he has been bred entirely by women. The Czar of All the Russians is weak and vacillating, frightened by signs and dreams.

To sum up: Russia stands at a great crisis in an evil plight. Its aristocracy is rotten and tyrannical, its people sullen in ignorance, without moral sense, dull and brutish; its priestcraft often degraded, extortionate, and sensual; its land of natural resources wasted and consumed; its imperial line counting human souls and bodies as bullion for its coining; and its Czar a grotesque weakling—John Foster Carr in World's Work.

A COMEDY OF DOORS.

The arrangement of the hinges on many of the doors in the corridor of the city hall is responsible for a number of comedies that are enacted in the municipal buildings every day. The doors are so constructed as to open both ways, and respond either to a pull or a push on the part of the person wishing to pass through them.

The glass in the centre of the swing doors is opaque, and hence an amusing confusion is caused when two persons going in opposite directions, each unable to see the other, try to pass through at the same time. The comedy is usually played as follows:

No. 1 and No. 2 approach or opposite sides of the door simultaneously. They meet. No. 1 pushes on the door. Ditto No. 2. A harder push from both sides brings no results. Both back off and look at the door. They realize what the matter is, and both wait for the other to make a start. Usually they both wait for the other to go ahead, and after an 'instant's hesitation push ahead, with full steam on. They meet again, and the one with the strongest temper wins out. A viv-a-vis gives way and lets him pass.

A student of human nature might note with interest that the man who gives way usually smiles, while the successful contestant for the right of way usually frowns.—From the Philadelphia Press.

A TOWN'S ENTERPRISES.

("Consular Reports." From United States Consul Hamm, Hull, England.) At a recent meeting of the corporation Telephone Committee it was announced that the charge for unlimited service would be $24.33 per annum to private houses and $30.55 to business premises.

The National Telephone Company has been compelled to reduce its rates from $18.66 to half that amount. It is stated that in the agreements which the National Telephone Company has with practically all the large towns and cities in England it was made a condition that in case it reduced its unlimited-service rate in any place below $48.66 a similar reduction must be made if demanded in all other towns.

In each instance, with the exception of the crematory and the baths, the municipalization of public utilities in Hull has resulted in profit to the city treasury. The profit, it is true, is small, but the charges for these public services are extremely low. A ride on the street car, for instance, to the end of the line costs only two cents; an exclusive telephone service in a private house costs less than 22¢ a year; and in a business office about $30 a year. Gas is sold at 45 cents per thousand feet and electricity at 9 cents per unit.

The object is not so much to make a profit for the city out of these utilities as to furnish the public with the best service at the lowest possible price. Viewed in this light, municipalization in Hull can be pronounced a success.

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

We will send you a sample free. Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy. SCOTT & BOWNE Chemists 409 Pearl St., N. Y.

EQUAL TO THE OCCASION.

From the Westminster Gazette. That is a very amusing story which tells of the queen of Holland's encounter with a journalist. Her youthful majesty was going over one of the soup kitchens at The Hague, where cheap and excellent meals are sold to the poor. As her wont she wished to see everything, and came at last to a door behind which it was explained to her, meat was kept in hot waiters.

"Let me have a look-in," said the queen, and opened the door, when, lo, and behold! a man stepped out. "It must be a fireman," said the lady-in-waiting, but the mystery-man himself, who had remained admirably cool (no doubt under the influence of the meat safe), explained that he was "only a journalist."

"It is my duty to go everywhere," he went on. "I wish to write some impressions of your majesty's visit, and now I have indeed, plenty of material, since your majesty has thus graciously 'received me in audience.' This from a man belonging to a proverbially gauche nation which is supposed to do all things slowly, and its brainwork more slowly than the rest, was a fine performance. At least Queen Wilhelmina seems to have thought so, for she dismissed the intruder with twinkling eyes, saying: 'At any rate, send me your article.'"

PAT SHEEDY, CHARACTER.

From the Chicago Tribune. There is not a man of the world who does not know Pat Sheedy. It has cost many of them a great deal to come in close touch with him, for the touchiness of an entirely honest kind—there has always been performed by the philosophical Pat.

Sheedy knows no boundary lines. Any place under heaven is his home, and he says that also will be some day. And if a man with honest sentiments and a big heart and a gloom dispelling smile ought to get the Pat Sheedy ought to be the color bearer at the head of the procession.

People, who have known Sheedy for 30 years, have always called him a ripe soul, but he is ruddier and mellower now than ever. To his many other graces he has added that of graceful speech. And he has turned philosopher.

There is a reason why Sheedy has turned philosopher and patron of art. He is not satisfied to live on his past reputation. He has his respect for the man who gets lazy and is satisfied to let his one time greatness last him all his life. Sheedy's greatness is of the now-is-the-time-to-subscribe sort. "You know the song," he says, "How it is? 'It ain't what you used to be, it's what we are today.' And that's Sheedy's motto."

A PRISONER IN HER OWN HOUSE

Mrs. W. H. Layha, of 1001 Agnes Ave., Kansas City, Mo., has for several years been troubled with severe hoarseness and at times a hard cough, which she says, "would keep me indoors for days."

I was prescribed for by physicians with no noticeable results. A friend gave me a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with instructions to closely follow the directions and I wish to state that after the first day I could notice a decided change for the better, and at this time after using it for two weeks, have no hesitation in saying I realize that I am entirely cured." This remedy is for sale by all druggists, Lawrence, W. A. Allen, Andover, C. H. Shattuck, Ballardvale.

PROBATE COURT SESSION.

At a session of the probate court held in this city Monday, Judge Harmon presiding, the following business was transacted:

O'Reilly, administrator; Amanda C. Chard, Saugus, Charles G. Woodbridge, administrator; William H. Clark, Gloucester, Chester Marr, administrator; Catherine McGowan, Salem, James F. Donovan, administrator; Mary A. Perkins, Georgetown, Mary Abby Perkins, administratrix; Helen M. Trask, Gloucester, Harriet E. Trask, administratrix.

CHIEF RUTTER REPORTS A SMALL FIRE LOSS.

Following is an expressive tabulation account of the work of the fire department for the year 1904. It is an impressive statement also, from the fact that while over fifteen hundred thousand dollars' worth of property was in danger of destruction the gross loss was only $33,246.35, and the net loss the amazingly small total of $6,306.00. The figures are worthy of careful study:

REPORT OF FIRE LOSS FOR YEAR 1904.

Total number of alarms	205
Insurance on buildings	$1,285,000 00
Loss on buildings	18,763 60
Insurance on contents	275,950 00
Loss on contents	14,482 75
Total loss	33,246 35
Insurance paid on buildings	18,496 60
Insurance paid on contents	8,443 75
Total insurance paid	26,940 35
Loss not covered by insurance	$6,306 00

LOWELL, Jan. 9.—The property destroyed by fire in Lowell last year was valued at more than $500,000, more than double that of the previous year. The amount of insurance paid was $319,980. The largest fires were the old old Pelvis building, the O'Donnell & Gilbride and neighboring buildings, and St. Patrick's church, all within four days in January, beginning a year ago today.

THE LIZZIBOY.

(From the Philadelphia Ledger.) "What sort of a fellow is he, anyway?"
"He's a Lizziboy."
"What's that?"
"A Lizziboy is a man who can go to a Saturday matinee without feeling out of place there."

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Mary Roberts, late of Andover, in said County, single woman, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for probate by Fanny Roberts Jackson and George C. Davis, who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executors therein named, without giving a surety on their official bonds.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Salem, in said County of Essex, on the sixteenth day of January, A.D. 1905, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Andover Townsman, a newspaper published in Andover, the last publication to be on one day, at least, before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said court.

Witness, Rollin E. Harmon, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-eighth day of December, in the year one thousand nine hundred and five.

J. T. MAHONEY, Register.

Cassatt in New Haven's Board.

President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad, after completing negotiations for 10,000 shares of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, otherwise known as the Consolidated system, has accepted the offer of a place on the board of directors of the New England road. This is said to be the first instance of the Pennsylvania railroad holding an interest in any line which it did not actually control. The move is thought to be due to the recent aggressive policy of President Mellen in securing the Ontario and Western, tapping the coal region.

A. J. Cassatt.

Stock Washing Disclosures.
Testimony taken in the bankruptcy proceedings against Munroe & Munroe, the New York stockbrokerage concern, last week shocked Wall street by showing that the rich and conservative National City bank, which is controlled by the Standard Oil interests, had loaned the firm $600,000 every morning for eighty-eight consecutive days on unindorsed and unsecured demand notes, which in turn were canceled each afternoon before the closing of the bank. It was expected that several arrests would follow the disclosures.

Fall River Mill Fails.
Receivers were appointed Jan. 4 for the Davis Mill corporation of Fall River, Mass., after Treasurer Richards and three directors had resigned on application of large creditors. This is the newest mill in the city and was capitalized at $600,000.

More Stock For Steel Men.
The finance committee of the United States Steel corporation has decided to repeat the offer made in 1903 to enable the officers and employees of the company to secure 20,000 shares of the preferred stock, the price being fixed at $87.50.

Federation Diner Assailed.
Charles Oberwager, a delegate from Typographical No. 1 to the New York Central Federated union, has been withdrawn by his associates, most of whom are Germans, because of his attendance at the recent annual dinner of the Civic federation.

Fall River Strike Goes On.
The owners of the cotton mills at Fall River, Mass., having declined to consider the proposition made by the workers to submit the matters at issue to arbitration, the unions have voted 1,401 to 420 in favor of continuing the strike, which has been in operation nearly a year.

Cut in Steel Workers' Pay.
At the Howard Axle works of the Carnegie Steel company of Pittsburgh a general reduction of wages went into effect Jan. 2. The cut varies from 16 2-3 per cent in the case of the higher paid employees to 5 per cent in the case of the laborers.

Motor Cars For Union Pacific.
A type of gasoline motor cars for use on its Nebraska and Kansas branch lines has been adopted by the Union Pacific railroad, and a number of them will be installed immediately. The new car is about the ordinary size, one end being finished up for passengers, the other end as a baggage and freight car, and the motor being between the two. These cars are expected to develop sixty miles an hour. Only a motorman and conductor being necessary.

Industrial.

Foreign Mission in 1904.
The report of the American board of foreign missions for 1904 shows a total of 25,672 stations in operation under the direction of 5,814 men and 6,586 women, assisted by 64,347 native laborers. The addition to the total of communicants during the year was 120,494. The income of all the societies was $16,118,280. Of this the United States raised $6,642,890, and 3,042 American missionaries directed 10,222 stations.

Scientific.

To Dig Up Herculaneum.

Professor Charles Waldstein of Cambridge university, England, has received the approval of the Italian government of his announced purpose to excavate the buried city of Herculaneum in Italy for the purpose of recovering lost works of art and other objects of interest. Incidentally he corrects a widespread impression that Herculaneum was buried under lava; on the contrary, he says, it lies under a bed of mud and ashes and that from the archaeological point of view the city was not destroyed by the eruption, but was actually preserved. President Roosevelt has consented to serve with the German emperor and other rulers on the international committee which Professor Waldstein is organizing for the purpose of carrying on the excavation of this ancient city.

sary, the economy to the company is apparent.

Niagara Turbines Tested.

Two of the 10,000 horsepower turbines constructed at Niagara Falls by the Canadian Niagara Falls Power company in connection with the Niagara Falls Power company on the American side were set in motion Jan. 2, thus marking a new era in electrical development. These turbines and dynamos are the largest in the world. Each machine developed 12,000 volts without a hitch.

Highest New York Building.

In taking possession of its new home at Forty-second street and Broadway, Jan. 2, the New York Times had the distinction of occupying the highest as well as one of the most interesting structures in New York city. Because of the building's location next to the subway, into which the basement stories open, it was possible for the first time to utilize the subway system in the early morning distribution of papers. The lofty tower of the building, looming far above its neighbors, has become one of the city's most prominent landmarks. The building is 476 feet from base to top of flag pole and 362.7 feet from curb to rail. It has thirty-one stories.

The First Forestry Congress.

The American forest congress, the first of its kind to be held in this country, was called to order Jan. 2 at Washington by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, president of the body. About 500 delegates were present from all parts of the United States. President Roosevelt called attention to the fact that all of the great industries of agriculture, transportation, mining and grazing are dependent on the preservation of the woods. He also recommended the concentration of all the forest work in the department of agriculture.

Religious.

Talbot Case Withdrawn.

Those persons interested in pressing charges against Bishop Talbot of Pennsylvania decided last week to withdraw the presentment in view of the fact that two of the signers who live at Huntingdon, Pa., had repudiated their signatures. Permission was asked of the presiding bishop to substitute a new presentment.

Edmunds on Polygamy.

Former United States Senator Edmunds of Vermont in an article for the Christian Herald asserts that Mormon polygamy and the political influence of the Mormon church have now extended into Idaho, Wyoming, California, Oregon and Oklahoma. He recommends the amendment of the federal constitution so as to prohibit polygamous marriages and plural cohabitation and requiring all public officers to take oath that they are not and will not be a member of any organization whose rules are at variance with the constitution.

Miscellaneous.

Fires in 1904.
Even without counting the Baltimore fire the fire losses in this country last year are estimated to be greater than in any recent year save 1900. The total destruction figures up to about $230,000,000.

A Blizzard Week.

The first week of the new year was marked by a storm of great severity, extending over the entire north and east, with temperature ranging to zero and lower and a drifting snowfall, combining to greatly impede transportation of all kinds.

Accidents.

Ten persons were killed when the boilers of the Pittsburgh steamer Defender blew up Jan. 4 near Huntingdon, W. Va.

The steamer Preston, which arrived at New Orleans from Puerto Limon, Costa Rica, brings the news that nearly forty miles of the Costa Rica railroad had been so seriously damaged by a succession of twenty-five earthquakes in the latter part of December as to greatly interfere with business.

Fire destroyed a large department store building at Long Branch, N. J. Jan. 2; loss, $200,000.

Four firemen were killed and two others were injured under a falling wall in a fire which destroyed the repair shops of the Chicago Union Traction company at Chicago, Dec. 31; loss, $600,000.

The Danish steamship Galila arrived at Hamilton, Bermuda, bringing seven survivors of the crew of the iron Norwegian bark Marpesia, which was blown up at sea by the explosion of her cargo of naphtha, killing eleven of the crew.

Deaths.

William H. Baldwin, Jr., president of the Long Island railroad, died at his home in Locust Valley, N. Y., Jan. 3, aged forty-two.

Theodore Thomas, the noted orchestra leader, died at Chicago Jan. 4, aged seventy.

The Beautiful City.

There is a city we are told,
Most beautiful to sight,
Its streets are paved with shining gold,
Its walls of sapphire bright,
It has no need of sun by day,
Nor moon's pale beams by night,
There seraphs walk in white array,
And God himself the light.

There a beautiful river flows,
Through gardens of delight,
There the immortal life-tree grows,
That heals the serpent's bite;
There souls of earth unburdened dwell,
And hymns of victory sing,
Of God's eternal goodness tell,
To Him glad tribute bring.

But tell me not of happiness,
In that celestial scene,
For I shall never loved ones miss,
Who here my joy have been;
For such a heaven why should I care,
Why songs exultant raise,
If I saw not in that city fair,
The friends of earthly days?

Lonely to me the gold paved street,
Silent the tuneful lyre,
If there I do not dear ones meet,
Among that shining choir;
Ah, who could sing redemption's song,
Who taste of heavenly bliss,
Falling among that white-robed throng,
To find the loved of this?

Mr. Draper.

Elsewhere in this paper is published an appreciative review of the life and character of Warren F. Draper.

The story is not like that of any other man whom any of us have known, and it is a story which may well be considered by the boys and young men of Andover. Above all else, it is the story of a "simple life" in its fullest sense. Many citizens have seen only that side of Mr. Draper which stood for prudence. Others had known him only as the benefactor of schools and colleges. Death sets him forth still as the prudent man, but prudent and saving that the great aim of his life might be realized.

To him the printing industry of Andover owes no small debt. He was a master printer in his day, whose achievements came not so much from his mechanical skill as from his all-round mastery of his business. The strictest integrity characterized all of his business dealings, and the highest order of justice controlled his life. He amassed money not through the profits of a great business, so much as through the making the most of every small thing. He was a "careful" man in every sense of the word. He seemed to many of those who knew him best to unduly emphasize the small things of life, but that was the way in which he built the foundation of the one great aim which he ever had in mind. The town always respected him, though it frequently ignored his counsel; but that never soured him nor alienated him. He had a deep affection which he had for everything that bore the Andover stamp; he was of the generation of old school gentlemen, of whom few, if any, remain; the type that will ever be remembered with gratitude for their part in giving to Andover a distinctive position among the towns of the commonwealth.

Editorial Cinders.

Had all the local friends and well wishers of Joseph A. Smart gathered to honor his forty year cycle in the Merrimack Company's service, there would have been a published list like the directory, rather than the few favored ones as chronicled in attendance. It was a very pleasant thought to thus recognize this unusual term of service for one concern, and citizens will universally endorse the cordial expressions of those who shared in the affair at the Phillips Inn on Monday. As boy and man, Mr. Smart has filled a large place in the town life, and today seems secure in a vigor and active participation in the best work of the town to be continued for many years to come. Fortunate, indeed, is the Insurance company, but doubly fortunate is the town which gets so much good from the ripe judgment, deep interest in everything that is wise, and loyal assistance, such as Mr. Smart is ever so ready to contribute to it.

We have a plaintive note from the good people of Pynchard, who are running the lecture course, regarding the lack of public patronage for their course this season. And upon investigation we are inclined to think they are abundantly justified in asking why the people complain because good entertainments don't come to Andover and then ignore those that do come. Why, indeed? Three splendid evenings are planned in the balance of this course, with F. Hopkinson Smith as a star of the very first magnitude for next Thursday night, yet there is lots of room left in the hall for all three, as well as for Smith. It's a dollar and a half in Boston to hear Smith alone; it is only a dollar and a quarter to enjoy all three evenings in Andover, with the added incentive of helping Pynchard.

During the past ten days the town's semi-public enterprises, to wit the banks and insurance company, have been giving accounts of their stewardships, that have been most gratifying to their friends. Gain in strength and wider influence have made up the sum of it all; a strength and usefulness that have contributed greatly to all of the town's prosperity, and which carry promise of still larger advances in the coming year. Conservative growth is the order of the day in all, and the result of the "slow and sure" is telling in no uncertain way. The town may well congratulate itself upon the high standing of these public servants.

FORTY YEARS OF SERVICE

Joseph A. Smart, President Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Co., Honored with Luncheon and Gift.

A splendid tribute was paid to Mr. Jos. A. Smart on Monday afternoon at the close of the annual meeting of the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Co. The meeting marked the close of forty years of service for this company by Mr. Smart. Forty years of labor, rich in reward for the company and abundant in progress from the lowest to the highest position for Mr. Smart.

In recognition of such a long and successful labor the directors tendered to Mr. Smart a luncheon at Phillips Inn to which they also invited about a dozen of the town's business men, who had been associated with Mr. Smart in one way or another during the past forty years of Andover business life.

After the luncheon Hon. M. T. Stevens, Vice Pres., read a most interesting story of the founding and growth of the Merrimack company, and at the close presented to Mr. Smart a beautiful picture as a gift from the directors. Mr. Smart responded in words of grateful appreciation.

Brief congratulatory remarks followed by Messrs. J. J. E. Rothery of Boston, Jones Frankie of Haverhill, Rev. F. A. Wilson, Joseph W. Smith and John N. Cole of Andover and S. D. Stevens of North Andover. Those in the gathering included Messrs. M. T. Stevens, A. B. Bruce, Lewis T. Hardy, Jones Frankie, R. L. J. Varnum, J. J. E. Rothery, John H. Flint and Joseph W. Smith of the board of directors of the Merrimack, and John F. Kimball, Horace H. Tyler, J. Tyler Kimball, N. Stevens, S. D. Stevens, F. S. Boutwell, Rev. F. A. Wilson, B. S. Flagg and John N. Cole, invited guests.

A Rare Entertainment.

The first entertainment in the Pynchard course took place last Friday evening in the Town hall, when the Schubert quartette and Curtis Morse, impersonator, of Boston, were the entertainers.

The attendance was much larger than was anticipated owing to the heavy snow storm. The quartette were accorded a hearty reception when they made their appearance and during the entire concert they were compelled to respond to encores. The four voices are of magnificent quality, and blend perfectly, all the singers being soloists of a high class. The program was varied so that the singers were heard in humorous as well as grave selections much to the pleasure of all. One may be sure that the Schuberts will always be accorded a warm welcome whenever they come here.

Curtis Morse also captivated his hearers with funny and droll impersonations. At times the audience would be hushed in sympathy for his characters and again peal upon peal of laughter would ring forth. He is certainly a star in his profession and well worth going a second time to hear. His jokes were all bright and new and told in an exceedingly humorous fashion. The last selection by Mr. Morse, "Katy's Troubles" was undoubtedly his masterpiece.

The program was as follows:
Quartet, "On the Sea" Buck
The Schuberts Lincoln
(a) "The Cuckoo Clock" Branch
(b) "Jim's Defense" Curtis G. Morse
Tenor solo, "My Dreams" Tosti
Quartet, "Remember Now Thy Creator" Rhodes
Selected The Schuberts
Tenor Solo, "For Ever Mine" Cauter
Charles W. Swaine
Quartet, Vocal Waltz, "Gay Hearts" Macy
The Schuberts Morse
"Katy's Trouble" Mr. Morse
Bass solo, "Gypsy Song" Campana
Dr. George R. Clark
Quartet, Evening Song (Arranged) The Schuberts

To Aid a Pynchard Student in College

The trustees of Pynchard School have taken action in regard to the recent gift of the late Warren F. Draper and the following are the rules by which the gift shall be governed:

Voted: That for a period of five years next ensuing, the income of the Draper fund shall be used for a W. F. Draper scholarship to assist some graduate of the Pynchard school in each year to pursue his or her first year's course of study in an institution of higher learning as for example, Amherst, Dartmouth, Harvard, Yale, M. I. T., Wellesley, Smith, Mt. Holyoke, or any other college or institution of like grade. The scholarships shall be awarded by the Visiting committee of the Pynchard Free school on the basis of scholarship merit during the senior year of the Pynchard course, and on such other considerations as the committee may deem pertinent in each instance. In determining scholarship merit, the marking in daily recitations shall count fifty per cent and marking in examinations fifty per cent. The income shall be payable to the beneficiary in two equal payments, the first to be paid at the end of the first term in such higher institution and the second at the end of the school year.

G. H. POOR, Clerk.

January 9, 1905.

A Coming Treat.

Thursday evening, Jan. 19, at 7.45 in the Town hall, you will indeed have a treat. F. Hopkinson Smith is so known and admired that Andover is most fortunate to be able to secure him for an evening's entertainment. Tickets will go on sale at the Andover Bookstore and by canvassers on Saturday next. Season tickets for the three remaining entertainments of the course may be had for $1.25. Tickets, either single or season, bought of the canvassers, may be made good for a reserved seat by calling at the bookstore any time before Jan. 19th. Smith should have a packed house.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Draper acknowledges with deep gratitude and appreciation the many tokens of sympathy and kindness shown by neighbors and friends during her recent bereavement.

Installation.

The recently elected officers of Andover lodge, 230, I. O. F., were installed Wednesday evening by District Deputy Grand Master Jesse Prescott and suite of Methuen.

The suite accompanying the district deputy comprised William Latham, Charles Bower, George Blodgett and William A. Bower.

Owing to the absence of one of the suite George Millett of this town assisted.

The officers who were installed were: N. G., Horace C. Bodwell; V. G., Samuel H. Bailey; warden, Harry Abbott; O. G., John Nice; I. G., David Whitman; conductor, Geo. C. Dunnells; R. S. N. G., Frank L. Holt; L. S. N. G., Elisha R. Barton; R. S. V. G., Wm. Faulkner; L. S. V. G., Harry Chadwick; chaplain, Ira Eastman; recording secretary, Frank M. Smith; financial secretary, Walter S. Rhodes; treasurer, Geo. E. Holt.

Met at "The Croft."

The regular meeting of the Aventure club was held last night at "The Croft," the beautiful home of Mrs. John Joyce in Frye Village. Mrs. Joyce was to have been the hostess in March but as she leaves on February 2, for a three months' cruise in the Mediterranean sea, she entertained the club last evening. There was an unusually large attendance and owing to Mrs. Joyce's approaching departure, the literary features of the program were shortened by omitting the usual general discussion and the greater portion of the evening was spent in social pleasures. A dainty luncheon was served and the occasion was made memorable for the good wishes for a pleasant journey for the hostess and a safe return. The reception rooms were beautifully decorated with palms and bowls of cut flowers.

Miss Elizabeth O'Leary read a very interesting paper on the "Different Madonnas" as conceived by the various great artists and was followed by Miss Minnie O'Mahoney who treated of current events in a bright, wide-awake manner. The pleasure of the evening was marred only by the necessity of returning to Lawrence on the last car and it was with sincere regret that the club members left "The Croft" after again wishing their hostess "bon voyage."

In Memory of Mr. Draper.

At the Seminary Chapel on Sunday morning, Prof. John Phelps Taylor will speak upon the life and service of Warren F. Draper. Dr. Taylor is peculiarly fitted for this task, through a long and intimate acquaintance and association with Mr. Draper, and many friends will be glad to know of this occasion.

Joint Installation.

The joint installation of Gen. William F. Bartlett Post, 90, G. A. R., and William F. Bartlett Relief Corps, 127, was held in G. A. R. hall last Friday evening. The attendance was large, and after the installing exercises were over refreshments were served and a social hour was spent.

Dr. C. H. Gilbert was the installing officer of the Grand Army Post, and Mrs. M. H. Morton, of Haverhill, performed the work for the Relief Corps. She was accompanied by her conductor and color bearer.

The following were the officers installed: Grand Army—Commander, George K. Dodge; senior vice, Henry Clukey; junior vice, John Cummings; chaplain, Peter D. Smith; surgeon, Dr. C. H. Gilbert; quartermaster, Moses L. Farnham; adjutant, J. Warren Berry; officer of the day, John B. A. Russell; officer of the guard, John McLaughlin; quartermaster sergeant, Henry C. Hitchcock; sergeant major, Ballard Holt. Relief Corps—President, Mrs. Helen Carruth Allen; senior vice-president, Mrs. Mary E. Anderson; junior vice-president, Mrs. Kate White; chaplain, Mrs. Annie Lindsay; conductor, Mrs. Jennie M. Bean; asst. conductor, Mrs. Hattie Smith; guard, Mrs. Annie Barton; asst. guard, Miss Jennie Thompson; secretary, Miss Sadie Hobbs; treasurer, Miss Della Curley; color bearers, Miss Mary Robinson, Mrs. Emma McTernan, Miss Margaret McTernan, Miss Sadie Robinson; patriotic instructor, Miss Ada Buchanan; press correspondent, Miss Annie Buchanan; musician, Mrs. Alice Cox; delegate, Mrs. Emma McTernan; alternate, Mrs. Alice Cox.

Reunion Week at South Church.

During this week starting on Tuesday evening the South church has been observing a week of Reunion Prayer meetings, when the roll call of the members of the church were held, the names being divided into three sections of the alphabet. The attendance has been large at every meeting and the responses were given by those present, those not there sending a message to be read in its proper place at the roll call.

On Tuesday evening, January 10, names beginning with A, B, C, D, E and F were called.

On Wednesday evening, January 11, names beginning with G, H, I, J, K, L, M and N were called.

On Thursday evening, January 12, names beginning with O, P, Q, R, S, T, U, V and W were called.

The annual meeting will be held this evening. Supper will be served at half past six, followed by reading of the annual reports, election of officers, and other business.

Well Deserved Tribute.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Pynchard school which was held last Friday evening, the following resolution was adopted on the resignation of Judge George H. Poor as clerk and treasurer of the Board:

Resolved, that in accepting the resignation of George H. Poor, Esq., as their clerk and treasurer, the Trustees of the Pynchard Free School desire to express their appreciation of the marked ability with which he has discharged the affairs of the office. For nineteen years under his administration the fund has yielded a surprisingly large income, and not a dollar of the principal has been lost. The terse, vigorous English in which the records are kept will be a model for all who shall follow. The town may well be proud of this record of one of her sons.

George A. Parker was elected to the offices made vacant by the resignation of Judge Poor.

Killed by Dogs.

One night, recently, the herd of Angora goats owned by John B. Jenkins was attacked by dogs, the result being that many of them were killed and others so terribly torn that they died from the effects. The exact number of goats killed has not been definitely learned, as some of the remainder of the herd have not been found. The loss is placed at about $170, as the goats were very valuable. Mr. Jenkins feels his loss keenly, as he prized his herd very highly.

The County may be held responsible for Mr. Jenkins's loss, and should the owners of the dogs be known, it might go hard with them.

WARREN FALES DRAPER

Died January 8, 1905, Aged 86 Years, 27 Days.

A long and honorable life was closed at 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, January 8, when Warren F. Draper breathed his last at his home on School street, aged 86 years and 27 days.

Mr. Draper came of the old and sturdy New England stock, and was born in the atmosphere of the best New England traditions at East Dedham, Mass., Dec. 12, 1818. Fitting for college at Phillips Academy, he early partook of the Andover spirit, and his departure from Andover for Amherst College was only for the fitting that should bring him back again to this town to study for the ministry at Andover Seminary. But his choice of a life work was not to be fulfilled along the lines he had mapped out, and after a single year at the Seminary following his graduation at Amherst, he gave up his study, and began his career as a publisher; a career in which he was to achieve so large success, and one where he was to find such a marked opportunity for his genius and ability.

Fifty Years a Publisher.

A short apprenticeship in Boston was followed by an association with the Andover publishing business, which had been founded in 1809 by Timothy Flagg and Abraham J. Gould, pressing on to fuller and richer development in 1833, under the care of Mark H. Newman, and in 1849 when Mr. Draper came to Andover in the hands of Allen, Morrill & Wardwell. Mr. Draper spent five years in hard and almost unceasing labor as an employee before he took upon himself the duties of "the Andover publisher" in 1854. If the hours had been long as an employee they at once became longer as the young man of thirty-six came into the realization of the size of his task as the successor to the line of strong men who had built the Andover press. But as they builded, he developed. Machinery was added, and improvements of all kinds were made in the conduct of the business.

The Seminary grew in power as a religious force, and the press became the greatest factor in making the Andover influence wide-spread. The man who had hoped as a youth to reach a congregation as a preacher of the gospel, was the central force in reaching the world with the best thought of the Andover theologians.

With Bacon, Woods, Edwards, Park, Phelps, and many others of the great minds of Andover, Mr. Draper held a close association for over fifty years. Their fame contributed to his success, and his work was substantially blessed. In 1887 he sold his printing business and retail book business, and since that time had confined his labors, outside of his work for schools, to the sale of his publications.

An Honored Citizen.

Mr. Draper's work as a citizen was ever guided by his careful attention to all expenditures, and prompted by a deep interest for all that was best in the community. He believed in going slow in acquiring improvements, but once entered upon he wanted work well done, and he wished for the town the highest efficiency. For many years he was active in town meeting, and always urged the strictest economy in public expenditure. He loved Andover and all of its institutions. Her hills were his pride and her forests his joy. The move for village improvement at once attracted his support, and the preservation of Indian Ridge had a quick and strong hold upon him.

His life was always that of the careful, frugal, New England citizen. He indulged in no luxuries, and had no extravagant tastes. His interests were entirely apart from all forms of personal pleasure, his one aim being a service to education through his labor and love. How fully he rendered that service is told by another pen which traces elsewhere the story of his work for education and his widespread benefactions to schools in many places.

For fifty years Mr. Draper was one of the strong men of Andover. His life was rich in accomplishment and what limitations there were only served to set forth all the stronger the power and richness of the life in the lines where it was centered. No fairer and truer tribute to his character could be given than the words of Rev. Mr. Shipman at the South church last Sunday in preaching from the text "He was a burning and a shining light," in which he referred to Mr. Draper as follows:

"A Burning and Shining Light."

"As I have thought upon this sermon, my mind has reverted many times to a man of this town whom our own eyes have seen, but whom none of us will see again in life. I mean that distinguished citizen of the town, Mr. Warren Draper. Without a question, he was a light; and this community, particularly through its schools, has rejoiced in that light, and will do so for many a year to come. Unquestionably too, Mr. Draper had his limitations. The restricted life which he led would not be possible for most of us, or, if possible, would not be altogether healthful. In some ways, probably, it was not healthful for him. But still that life was light—steady and pure and powerful. In his early years God had held out to him faith in the education of the mind as the safeguard of our American people in the midst of their great temptations to a merely smart, eager, prosperous life. He received that faith, and he kept it to the end. God had withheld children from him and his equal-minded wife, and so they were able to devote themselves more fully to their great enthusiasm.

"It is hardly two weeks ago that I met him and spoke to him of the gratitude felt towards him for his last gift of $1000 to the Pynchard Free school. He looked up at me from the chair into which his feeble body had sunk, and it seemed as if a quivering fire leaped into his faded eyes, as he said in a trembling voice, 'I have been a great believer in education,' and then he asked eagerly if I did not suppose that American schools were the best in the world. 'I have been a great believer in education,' indeed, he has been. And as one thinks of these words, and how truly the life has been an embodiment of the belief, Mr. Draper takes his place as the last in that line of men and women, not professional educators themselves, who have handed from one to another a shining faith in the dignity of the human mind and a burning zeal that the men and women of the future might grow conscious of that dignity. Phillips, Abbot, Newman, Draper—they all belonged to that great tide of missionary devotion to the blessings of scholarship which flowed full and strong in this New England of ours during the first half of the last century and has left its mark in every part of the globe. How that tide swelled in this town! And now its last wave has broken and passes away. Other men will appear among us with perhaps no less interest in schools; but they will not belong to the same apostolic succession. They will have gained their interest through other inspirations, their steadfastness through other modes of thought.

"The times changed, but Mr. Draper did not. Wealth came to him, but he did not relax his purposes. A more lavish living grew up around him, a new zeal for a varied culture; but he held simply on. In many ways his life seemed bare and narrowed; but it had strong faith and patience and unselfishness. It had warmth and color and richness and breadth, while he saw Abbot Academy rise and Draper Hall send out its graduates year by year.

"Most of us, when we are young, have to take it on dim faith that education is something to be striven for. Now and then a boy or girl appears in whose heart God has set the glory of it, and we see him toiling, sacrificing, in order to get it. And then again we behold one toiling long and sacrificing much, not in order to win it for himself, but that others, coming after, most of them never to be seen by his mortal eyes, may have this, so rich and rare a treasure. And by these two visions, of the youthful toiler and the mature, unselfish servant of a great idea, dimmer eyes are able to gather at least some impression of the exceeding desirableness of an education. Mr. Draper was both the youthful toiler and, even to old age, the unselfish servant. All his life had the dignity of a great reverence for something higher and to come."

The following tribute is written by one whose long and close association with Mr. Draper makes him peculiarly fitted to faithfully portray that side of Mr. Draper's life, which found its pleasure in giving to the cause of education:

Mr. Draper as an Educator.

"One week ago I passed from the bedside of Mr. Warren F. Draper to the senior recitation room of the McKean Memorial. The class was beginning its course in ethics. He was closing his career in pursuit of right. His own white locks and his first coming to Andover almost seventy winters ago were recalled by the flying snow. A schoolboy then, the friend of school boys and school girls ever since, he is lamented today as one of the great educational forces of our educational town.

Others have praised his gifts to learning. It is simple justice to say they were vast in proportion to his means. Over $100,000 have poured from the purse of that farmer's lad into the lap of Theological Seminary, Phillips Academy, and Pynchard School, the Public Schools, and Abbot Academy. It is more to the point to note that these benefactions were thoughtful, timely, statesmanlike, primarily. They came at crises. They cost the giver self-sacrifice. They were associated with great anniversaries in his life and that of his gracious wife. They were alien to Goethe's pagan idea, 'The man who has life in him feels himself to be here for his own sake, not for the public.' The altruism of holiness was in them.

Out of the window of his house he was wont to sit, looking at Draper Hall. On his retina was fixed more than fair girlish forms. Memory brought back himself a school teacher in Andover. Again he was conducting the spelling match. In the Advertiser he was a teacher in print. His childhood home was a school, instructing and inspiring every Abbot girl. The foremost of Congregational teachers met once more at Phillips boy at his table. The horizon became a prophet. It said in advance the words recited at his grave—

Oh, softly fades our life away
Through Age's silver bars;
A tender flush on hill and sky,
And, lo, the world of stars.

Mr. Draper's idea of education was as the handmaid of religion. "It must be thoroughly based on religious feeling." This made his publishing sacred. A book was a personality. The Bibliotheca Sacra was his darling and masterpiece. He was a comrade of the Christian Teachers' Park, McKean, Churchill, Bancroft. His mind opened to wider vistas in art and letters, with advancing years. Economy, intensity, thoroughness, conscience, character of the Puritan stamp were always before his eye in the acquisition and impartation of knowledge. With these grew a lovely courtesy, a mastery of self, a sanity of judgment, a benignity of friendship, a balance breadth and magnanimity of sentiment, of which the outside world did not dream. Education and religion blended. In literal truth, at the last, he gave himself to the cause he loved.

In the schools of Andover, in Amherst College, of which he was a generous alumnus, in the hearts of teachers and pupils in South and West, in the lives of many beyond the sea to the furthest Orient, with ignorant and needy at our doors, this simple, modest, high-minded, warm-hearted, truth-seeking, God-fearing educator, will be a power and a benediction forever.

Individuals die. Institutions endure.

Our venerable and beloved friend, who in God's light now sees light, is on the threshold of his beneficent influence on earth.

Funeral Services.

The funeral services on Tuesday were an impressive tribute to the deceased.

A brief service of prayer took place at his late home on School street at 1:30 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Daniel Merriman, president of the board of trustees of Abbot Academy.

The public services were held in the Andover Seminary chapel at 2 o'clock and were in charge of President Charles O. Day of the Andover Theological Seminary. Passages of scripture were read by Principal Alfred E. Stearns of Phillips Andover Academy. Prayer was offered by Prof. E. Y. Hincks of the seminary. A triple quartet comprising students of Abbot and Phillips Academies sang, "Servant of God, Well Done," and "In the Cross of Christ I Glory." The congregation joined in singing the hymn, "Our God, Our Help in Ages Past."

At the grave in the Chapel cemetery a committal service was conducted by Prof. John Phelps Taylor.

The honorary bearers were Prof. William B. Graves, Prof. J. Winthrop Platten, Prof. Matthew S. McCurdy, Prof. George T. Eaton, Col. George R. Key, Geo. F. Smith, Marcus Morton, Esq., Samuel L. Fuller, John N. Cole and John Alden. The entire student body of Abbot Academy and a delegation of students from Phillips Academy escorted the body from the house to the Chapel, and there was a large attendance at the services, including many representative Andover citizens and leading clergymen from far and near.

The Hyde Lectures upon Foreign Missions at the Seminary.

The Reverend Robert Allen Hume, D.D., of Ahmednagar, India, Missionary of the A. B. C. F. M., will deliver the Hyde lectures in Bartlett Chapel, Room A, beginning on Monday, January 16. The subjects and hours are as follows: Mon., Jan. 16, 4:30 p. m.—Missions and the Modern View. Tues., Jan. 17, 4 p. m.—The Historical Development of Hinduism. Wed., Jan. 18, 11 a. m.—Missions and Psychology. Wed., Jan. 18, 4 p. m.—Missions and Sociology. Thurs., Jan. 19, 4 p. m.—Missions and Comparative Religion. Fri., Jan. 20, 4 p. m.—What Christianity has to gain through Missions.

Besides his life-long service for the Christianization and education of Western India, Dr. Hume has lately been recognized and honored, especially by the English Government, for his devoted efforts in behalf of the sufferers by famine, and their thousands of orphaned children.

The public is cordially invited by the Faculty to attend these lectures.

The McAll Mission.

The 17th of January is now regularly observed as Memorial Day in the different halls of the McAll Mission and by its various auxiliaries.

It is the anniversary of the first meeting held in Paris by Mr. McAll.

The Andover Auxiliary will meet on that day to remember the beginnings of this wonderful evangelistic work, and to recount the progress of the gospel in France and in her colonies.

It is hoped that all the Andover friends of the McAll Mission will remember the date and place of the meeting and that many may be able to be present.

Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

The annual meeting of the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Company was held in the home office at two o'clock on Monday afternoon for the choice of directors and to take action on the amendment of Article 2 of the by-laws, which changes the time of the annual meeting from the second Monday in January to the third Monday in January.

The following directors were elected for four years: John H. Flint, Hon. John A. Wiley of North Andover, Joseph W. Smith. At a meeting of the directors for organization the following were present: M. T. Stevens, A. B. Bruce, Lawrence, L. R. J. Varnum, Lowell, J. J. E. Rothery, Boston, James A. Sawyer, Lewis T. Hardy, John H. Flint of Andover, and Jones Frankle of Boston. Organization was effected by the following elections: President and treasurer, Joseph A. Smart; vice-president, Moses T. Stevens; secretary, Burton S. Flagg; finance committee, Messrs. Stevens, Flint and Hardy. A substantial gain in surplus and large improvement in character of business was reported.

National Bank.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Andover National Bank was held in the banking rooms on Tuesday afternoon when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Moses T. Stevens; vice-president, Nathaniel Stevens; directors, M. T. Stevens, John H. Flint, Joseph A. Smart, John F. Kimball, Horace H. Tyer, Nathaniel Stevens, James C. Sawyer.

West Parish.

The annual meeting of the West church was held on Wednesday evening of this week in connection with the monthly church social. A supper was served at 7:30, which was followed by the business meeting at 8:30. The election of officers resulted in the choice of Arthur T. Boutwell, clerk; F. S. Boutwell, treasurer; Peter D. Smith, auditor. The annual reports were given, showing the church to be in good condition.

Christ Church.

The annual meeting of Christ church which was to have been held last Saturday evening was postponed until Tuesday evening of this week when it occurred in the parish house. The business meeting was preceded by a fine turkey supper served by Caterer Rhodes. After the business of the evening, short speeches were made by prominent members of the parish which were much enjoyed.

The officers which were elected were as follows: Senior warden, Horace H. Tyer; junior warden, T. Dennis Thomson; treasurer, Jules A. Dural; clerk, Charles E. F. Clarke; vestrymen, J. Tyler Kimball, William F. Wood, Charles E. F. Clarke, Ezra L. Abbot, Edward H. Williams, Jr.; Mrs. Francis Howe Johnson, Mrs. E. A. Baldwin.

POLITICS and GOVERNMENT

Executive.

Diplomatic Service Changes.

It was made known at Washington on the last day of December that with one exception no man not now in the diplomatic service is to be appointed to a place of high rank. The exception is Whitelaw Reid, editor of the New York Tribune, who is to succeed Joseph H. Choate as ambassador to Great Britain. This is partly justified because of Mr. Reid's former connection with the service. George V. L. Meyer of Massachusetts is to be ambassador to France in place of General Porter, Henry White of Rhode Island ambassador to Italy, Charles Maguire of Pennsylvania to remain ambassador to Germany and Edwin H. Conger of Iowa to be ambassador to Mexico. Mr. White has been first secretary at London, Mr. Conger minister at Peking and Mr. Meyer ambassador to Italy. Both Ambassadors Porter and Choate are to retire to private life.

Whitelaw Reid.

To Care For Manufacturers.
J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia, who was appointed chief of the bureau of manufactures in the department of commerce and labor, finds himself in a somewhat peculiar position, as there is not at present any provision for salary, desk room or office force. The act of congress creating the bureau fixed the salary at $4,000, but no appropriation was made for it last year. Foreign consuls will be directed to furnish this bureau with information concerning foreign markets, prices, etc.

Cruiser Chattanooga Swift.
The protected cruiser Chattanooga after completing her two days' speed trial was found to have averaged 16.6 knots per hour in a four hours' speed run.

Legal and Criminal.

Members of Congress Indicted.

United States Senator John H. Mitchell and Representative Binger Hermann, together with George Sorenson, a former deputy sheriff in Oregon, have been indicted by the federal grand jury at Portland. The two congressmen are charged with conspiring to defraud the government out of a portion of its public lands by means of forged and false affidavits and fictitious persons. To this end it is alleged that Mitchell received the sum of $2,000 to secure his influence with Hermann, who was then commissioner of the general land office at Washington, and that Hermann expedited twelve claims which he knew to be illegal. Sorenson is charged with offering United States District Attorney Hall a bribe of $5,000 to affect his action on the land fraud cases against Pater, McKinley and others. In an interview before starting back to Washington Senator Mitchell denied his accusers, saying that he could not in any way be connected with land frauds except by the perjury of convicted thieves and perjurers. The president has removed from office John H. Hall, the district attorney for Oregon.

Hill Wins Against Harriman.
The United States circuit court of appeals at Philadelphia, Jan. 3, dissolved the injunction granted by the lower court to restrain the directors of the Northern Securities company from distributing the company's assets on a pro rata plan as proposed by President Hill. This decision is not final, however, as E. H. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific, will continue his efforts to control the Northern Pacific by asking the supreme court for a writ of certiorari to review the decision. Mr. Harriman called attention to the fact that the question had passed before four judges, two of whom were for him and two of whom were against him. The question is whether Mr. Harriman shall receive back the Northern Pacific stock which he put into the merger, amounting to a controlling interest.

Dr. Chadwick's Return.
Dr. Leroy S. Chadwick, husband of Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, who arrived at New York from Europe Dec. 31 and went at once voluntarily with the sheriff to Cleveland, has called on Mrs. Chadwick in her prison cell. She implored her husband to trust her still and continued to talk of the statement which would explain all. Mr. Chadwick was released on bail.

Interstate Prohibition Limited.
The United States supreme court has decided that the supreme court of Iowa was wrong in sustaining the state authorities in their policy of seizing packages of liquor sent by the American Express company C. O. D. from Rock Island, Ill., to Tampa, Fla. This action was based on the Iowa prohibitory liquor law, but the supreme court finds that any such action contravenes the interstate commerce clauses of the federal constitution.

Notes.
Ex-United States Senator George H. Williams of Oregon, formerly chief justice of Oregon territory and now mayor of Portland at the age of eighty-three, is indicted for malfeasance in office in having failed to enforce the city statutes in relation to gambling.

The grand jury of the District of Columbia has recommended the establishment of the whipping post as a means of punishing wife beaters and petty larceny offenders.

Justice Pitney of New Jersey holds that the telegraphing of bets on horse races either in that state or into another state is contrary to the existing law.

Foreign.

Kaiser Jolies President.

In the course of his New Year's day greeting to Ambassador Tower Emperor William remarked, "President Roosevelt is leading the American people to an advanced position of power and influence in the world." He said that Germany's friendly feelings toward us enabled her to look upon our increasing greatness without concern. He also suggested the desirability of having American and German universities exchange professors. The ambassador replied that he would assist in carrying out this suggestion.

Sultan Forbids Sale of Bibles.

The sultan of Turkey has replied to the notes of the American legation and British embassy regarding the sales of Bibles in the streets of Constantinople and refuses to authorize their sale. As all propagandas are forbidden by the laws of the empire, the sales must be confined to shops or depots of the Bible societies.

Morocco Backs Down.

It was reported at Tangier that the sultan of Morocco had yielded to France upon all points, reversing his order dismissing the foreigners. It is rumored that French troops are preparing to enter South Morocco.

Legislative.

For Control of Railroads.

Senator Newlands of Nevada introduced when congress reassembled Jan. 4 a joint resolution creating a commission to promote and report to congress a national incorporation act for the construction and consolidation of railroads employed in interstate commerce. The aim of this legislation is the virtual abolition of state lines in so far as railroads are concerned and the placing of these common carriers under government control.

Statehood Bill Up.

On motion of Senator Beveridge of Indiana the bill for admission of territories was taken up instead of the pure food bill, the Democrats opposing this action.

Wants Secretary Morton Removed.

In view of the recent evidence before the interstate commerce commission regarding the granting of rebates by the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad while Secretary Morton was its traffic manager, Representative Baker of New York has introduced resolutions having for their object the removal and prosecution of the secretary. One of the resolutions asks the president whether the retention of Mr. Morton in his cabinet is in harmony with his denunciation of rebates. The fact was recalled that Secretary Morton himself testified before the interstate commerce commission in 1901 that he, as traffic manager of the Santa Fe, had granted rebates to beef packers and that he knew this was in violation of the law.

Dr. Crum Confirmed.

The senate Jan. 6 confirmed the long opposed nomination of Dr. W. D. Crum, colored, as collector of customs at Charleston, S. C., by the strict party division of 33 to 17.

Lawson Charges in Congress.

Senator Stone of Missouri has offered a resolution directing the judiciary committee to investigate the charges made by Thomas W. Lawson and Alton B. Parker concerning campaign contributions. He refers particularly to Lawson's statement that certain well known capitalists had raised a $5,000,000 corruption fund to promote the election of the Republican candidates in 1896.

General.

To Cut Out Canal Commission.

It is understood at Washington that a bill is now being prepared amending the Spooner act so as to eliminate the Panama canal commission and leave the administration of the great work directly in the hands of the secretary of war as the president's adviser. The president has been advised that Engineer Wallace is hampered by the dilatory tactics of the commission. It is expected that Governor General Davis of the canal zone and Minister Barrett at Panama will be retired. The president is reported as being greatly dissatisfied with the progress or lack of progress made by the commission in the ten months since it was created.

Probing Colorado's Election.

The supreme court of Colorado has ordered an investigation of the recent election in Denver covering every matter pertaining thereto. It will include an inquiry as to the source of campaign funds of both the parties and what was done with them.

Senator Depew's Triumph.

Chauncey M. Depew, senator from New York, has been the recipient of congratulations from his friends and admirers owing to the agreement of the Republican leaders in New York that he shall succeed himself, a decision which the state legislature is expected to confirm. The withdrawal of ex-Senator Black's name from the contest followed the decision of Governor Odell not to oppose Depew.

Missouri's Republican Senator.

Thomas K. Niedringhaus of St. Louis, chairman of the Republican state committee, was nominated Jan. 5 by the Republican legislators to succeed Cockrell in the United States senate. His election is assured.

Governor Pennypacker's Latest.

In his annual message Governor Pennypacker of Pennsylvania recommends a law for the suppression of newspapers. It is that any six persons may petition the attorney general, setting forth that a particular paper is a public nuisance because it makes no real news, but is a "habitual publisher of falsehoods." Thereupon the case may be brought to trial, and if the evidence shall be satisfactory the court shall direct the suppression of the publication. The governor indirectly suggests the assassination of editors by calling attention to a recent case where an offending citizen killed an editor and was acquitted by a jury. He singled out the Philadelphia North American in particular for his attack, thus indicating that the motive of his proposed law was to strike at that publication. The press of the country almost without exception has ridiculed Governor Pennypacker's proposition.

McClellan For City Ownership.

Mayor McClellan of New York city in his annual message openly declared the present prices paid by the city to the light monopoly are extortionate and announces himself in favor of municipal ownership and operation of an electric light plant to light the streets, parks and public buildings of New York. The Hearst papers, which have been charging the mayor with being the tool of the gas trust, call attention to the fact that the mayor's recommendation is limited to public lighting and says nothing about a municipal plant to supply private consumers. The mayor defines his position by saying that government should not engage in any service which can be done better by private enterprises. Bills to provide for a city lighting plant and increased water supply were introduced in the legislature.

Governors Inaugurated in Five States

The "shoemaker" governor of Massachusetts, elected by the Democrats on his labor record and aided by clever use of newspaper advertising, William L. Douglas, in his inaugural address, delivered at Boston, Jan. 5, advocated tariff revision as being especially needed by the shoemaking industry. Other reforms urged were direct legislation, municipal ownership of public service utilities, popular vote on franchise grants and the abolition of indiscriminate imprisonment of beggars and tramps. He spoke for the shorter workday and the prohibition of overtime and referred to the Fall River strike as a blemish on the state.

Frank Wayland Higgins, inaugurated Jan. 2 as the Republican governor of New York, announced his purpose to keep an open official house regardless of party lines. His message recommends the repeal of the tax on savings banks' surplus and suggests economy in view of the large treasury deficit. He recommends the extension and restriction of the suffrage at tax elections to those who are on the assessment roll, regardless of sex. This he regards as an act of justice to women.

Joseph W. Folk was inaugurated as the Democratic governor of Missouri Jan. 9 at Jefferson City with an immense popular demonstration. W. J. Bryan was one of the speakers.

John A. Johnson was inaugurated as the Democratic governor of Minnesota at St. Paul, Jan. 3.

Charles S. Denen was inaugurated as the Republican governor of Illinois at Springfield, Jan. 6.

METHUEN.

ELECTED TREASURER FOR 47TH TIME.

At the annual church meeting of the Cong'l church held Wednesday night, Hon. Jacob Emerson was elected church treasurer for the 47th consecutive time. During all these years Mr. Emerson has served in this capacity most faithfully, and has been one of the most active workers in the church with which he is connected. He has also served as cashier of the local bank for about 35 years.

Hon. Jacob Emerson will be 76 years old on June 29. He was born at Salem, N. H., June 29, 1829. His early life was spent living at home and laboring upon his father's farm at Salem. He was in the year 1845 at the age of 16 years he came to this town and entered the employ of the Methuen company as bobbin boy.

Mr. Emerson was in this company's employ for 20 years, during which time he worked in every department for eighteen consecutive years. He was elected to the position of overseer of the mill, holding an overseer's position in the weaving, spinning and spooling departments and at the time he concluded his duties with this concern he was employed in the counting room. After severing his connection with the Methuen company he was engaged in the hatting business, the firm being known by the name of Bowen, Emerson and company, doing business where the Tremont Worsted company now is. He was in that concern until 1870 when he was chosen cashier of the local bank. Mr. Emerson has always been very active in politics and taken a deep interest in the running of town affairs attending most all of the town meetings of which he was moderator for eighteen consecutive years. He was elected to the House of Representatives in the years 1863-1864, to the state senate in 1878, a member of the local school board in the year 1885.

In the year 1861 he was united in marriage with Miss Josephine Davis, daughter of the late John Davis, one of Methuen's best known residents, by Rev. Mr. Greeley who was pastor of the Congregational church at that time. The wedding was held at the church and was the second wedding to be solemnized there. The happy couple have been blessed with four children, two daughters and two sons. Miss Alice W. Emerson, who has been a teacher in the High school at Winsted, Conn., for the past dozen years, John D. Emerson, who has been connected with the local National bank with his father for the past 19 years; Dr. Charles P. Emerson, an instructor at Johns Hopkins Medical school at Baltimore, Md., and Miss Marion B. Emerson the youngest, who lives at home.

KNOCKED DOWN AND ROBBED.

Waiter Bateman, the young man, who works as clerk for T. J. Brady at the new stand at the entrance to the Central building, shows a two inch scar on the left side of his head as the result of an encounter with an unknown assailant Tuesday evening.

Bateman was on the way to his home in South Lawrence, having left the new stand at about 7 o'clock. His route took him up Essex street to Amesbury street and along to Canal street and Hampshire streets. The young man heard steps behind him and did not realize anything was wrong until he received a blow on the head. After that he remembered nothing until his senses returned, when he was able to pick himself up and walk his way home. How long he remained unconscious he does not know.

Young Bateman was unable to work yesterday morning. He was at his regular duties today, however. He said to a Telegram reporter that he did not want any publicity given to the matter. Asked if he had reported the assault to the police, he said no.

At the police station Assistant Marshal Houghton said no one there had heard about the case, and no formal complaint had been made. Until the morning papers gave the facts in the case.

T. J. Brady, young Bateman's employer, said this morning that the facts in the case were given to Inspector M. J. Murphy Wednesday afternoon.

ATTENDED SERVICE.

By special invitation of the pastor Rev. William F. Ineson, the members of Hope lodge, 34, and Minerva Rebekah lodge, 20 I. O. O. F., of Methuen attended divine worship at the Methodist Episcopal church in that town Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The members of both lodges assembled at the hall and marched to the church in a body. Past Grand John S. Tapley acting as marshal for Hope lodge and Past Grand George Slader for the Rebekahs. About 60 of the former were in line and about half that number from the Rebekah lodge.

The church was well filled, seats being reserved in the front and centre for the visiting lodges. Music for the occasion was furnished by an augmented choir under the direction of Herbert Fay Nye.

Rev. Mr. Ineson preached a thoughtful and appropriate sermon which was listened to by all present. He took for his text the story of the friendship of Jonathan, the prince of Israel for David, the shepherd boy. At the conclusion of the services the lodges marched back to the hall and were dismissed.

PEABODY FUNERAL.

The funeral of Miss Abbie J. Peabody was held Saturday afternoon from the home of her parents on Policy street, Salem, N. H., at 2 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Blacklock of the Baptist church of Salem officiated. Many friends were in attendance.

The body was in a handsome steel gray casket silver trimmed, and the plate bore the inscription:
ABBIE J. PEABODY,
1835-1905.

There was a handsome display of floral tributes from sorrowing friends and relatives.

Burial took place in Pine Grove cemetery in Salem. The pall bearers were Joseph and Charles Bradford and John and Charles Peabody. C. W. Douglas of this town was funeral director.

MAN KILLED ON THE SOUTHERN

NE WHAMPSHIRE.

A car on the Lawrence and Haverhill division of the Southern New Hampshire Traction company struck and almost instantly killed Patrick Kerion near Marston's corner, in Methuen, about 10 minutes past nine Wednesday evening.

Kerion lived on a farm near the scene of the accident, and was walking close to the track, evidently on his way home. At the point named is a long curve. The motorman, Forrest L. Penbo, saw the figure of a man as the car swung around the curve, heading toward this city. It is apparent that as the car swerved around Kerion was struck by the hand rail and knocked down by the side of the track.

The car was stopped and the motorman and conductor went back to where the man was lying on the snow. A long jagged cut on the left side of his head bled profusely. In the darkness it could not be seen whether or not the man was alive, but he was placed on the car and brought to this city.

A telephone message had been sent to the police station and the ambulance was waiting at the Hampshire street terminal to remove the man to the hospital. An examination showed that he was dead, however, and the body remained in the car for some time. Medical Examiner Dow ordered it removed to Mahoney's undertaking rooms, where he viewed the remains.

The wound in the head is suggestive of a fractured skull. There were also internal injuries. The deceased was 45 years old. He lived with his parents in Methuen not far from where the accident occurred and he was evidently bound for home when the accident happened. The cars of the long vestibuled pattern were to a great degree from the tracks when making the curve at this point and it is believed that the victim thought himself a safe distance from the track. The hand rail on the car was broken by the blow.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual supper and roll call of the Congregational church was held Tuesday night at Phillips church. Supper was served at 6:30 o'clock, and a large number was present. The supper was prepared under the direction of a committee of which Mrs. George W. Tenney was at the head. She was assisted by an able corps of ladies in the kitchen, and the waiting at the tables were looked after by young ladies. Several of the young men poured the coffee.

After the supper was disposed of the roll was called, 165 responding to their names. The report of the clerk, Charles H. T. Mann, gave the church membership as 267. Treasurer Jacob Emerson submitted the treasurer's report, which showed the finances of the church to be in a satisfactory condition. Frank Remick, superintendent of the Sunday school, reported a membership of 213, with an average attendance for the year of 116. Harley Remick made the report for the Young People's society. The membership of this society is 44. Miss Carrie J. Holden, president of Phillips circle, King's Daughters, reported a membership of 73. Much good work has been done during the year by this organization. Other reports were given as follows: Junior circle, King's Daughters, Miss Ruth Norris; Ladies' Missionary society, Mrs. George W. Tenney; Ladies' Benevolent society, Mrs. E. A. Archibald; Ladies' Social circle, Mrs. Henry Arnold.

It was voted that the contributions toward the service be the same as last year, and that the August collection go to the Sunday school.

The following officers were elected: Clerk, Deacon Charles H. T. Mann; treasurer, Deacon Jacob Emerson; Sunday School superintendent, Frank Remick; church committee, William M. Rogers and John H. Blinn; music committee, J. Frank Emerson, C. J. Sargent, Miss Bessie Sargent; auditor, Henry Gaunt; delegate to general association, Deacon Jacob Emerson.

The future work of the church was discussed and a movement started looking toward union revival services in the town of Andover. Another meeting will be called by the pastor in the near future to further discuss the plans.

The Guiding Star lodge of Independent Order of Good Templars was instituted on Friday night in Historical hall. In spite of the inclement weather there was a very good attendance and the new lodge got an excellent start. The grand councillor of Massachusetts instituted the lodge and there were delegates from Andover, North Andover and Haverhill. Bro. C. W. Messersmith was elected chief templar, Bro. W. S. Taylor chief templar, Sister Mary Gordon secretary, Bro. James Porter treasurer, and the other officers are suitably filled with good, working members. The outlook is good for a lodge that will do effective work in the cause of equal abstinence. All interested in such a quest are cordially invited to attend the meeting of the lodge next Friday night.

SEWING CIRCLE MET.

The Sewing Circle composed of ladies connected with Friendship Temple, Rathbone Sisters, held a session in Pythian hall Wednesday afternoon and made quite a number of aprons to be sold at the March fair to be held by the Temple. Mrs. Sargent resigned as president of the Circle, and Mrs. George A. Hunting was elected president in her stead. In the evening a supper was served, when quite a large number availed themselves of the opportunity afforded. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Hosea Bradstreet, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. C. H. Leavitt. Miss Silvia Leavitt and Mrs. Albert Richardson were among the assistants.

After the supper a regular session of the temple was held, when one candidate was initiated. The installation of the lodge officers will take place next Wednesday evening in Pythian hall in Lawrence.

$50,000,000 YEARLY FOR GOLF.

(From the Springfield Union.)
Would you imagine that something like $50,000,000 could be spent yearly on the game of golf? To begin with there are 79 golf clubs in England, 759
in the United States, 632 in Canada, Scotland, 134 in Ireland, 43 in Wales, and 63 in different parts of the continent. There are, all told, probably not less than 3,000 organizations devoted to golf playing.

These clubs, counting their grounds,
buildings and preliminary expenses, represent a permanent investment of $40,000,000 or $50,000,000; and comparatively few of them can be run at a yearly expense of less than $50,000.
The average membership is about 200 and the average yearly subscriptions of these 600,000 golf players amounts to nearly $20,000,000. Each of the players is equipped with an outfit that costs on an average about $20; and the yearly purchase of golf clubs, all over the world, amounts therefore, to several millions of dollars.

LAWRENCE

LOCAL CITY GOVERNMENT SE-VERELY ARRANGED.

The state board of health's report of water supply and sewerage filed in the senate yesterday contains a severe arrangement of the Lawrence city government on its policy in managing the Lawrence city filter.

It says the Lawrence city filter, constructed for the purpose of purifying the sewage polluted water of the Merrimack river and preventing the excessive death rate from typhoid fever and other diseases resulting from the use of a polluted water supply, was constructed by the city under the advice of this board in 1893. How successfully it has served its purpose is shown by the great reduction in the death rate of the city in the years following the completion and use of the filter as compared with the preceding years.

The filter was designed to be of sufficient capacity for the needs of the city at the time it was built, but the original design, which included a cover or roof to protect the filter in winter, was not carried out, and its operation has been greatly hampered by the impracticability of maintaining its surface in proper condition in cold weather. In the winter of 1901-2 the consumption of water in the city was for a period of several days greater than the capacity of the filter, and for a period of many days in that winter the water stored in the distributing reservoir was very nearly exhausted. Early in the spring of 1902 the board advised the city of the urgent need of enlarging the filter, thus relieving it from obstruction from ice and snow and freezing weather, and to provide as soon as practicable an additional filtering area, but the only action taken by the city authorities was to divide the filter into three parts by means of walls by which a very little improvement was made in the operation of the filter. The winter of 1902-3 being a very mild one enough water was obtained for the supply of the city. Nothing was done in the summer season of 1903, and the enlarging of the works for supplying filtered water to the city or pure drinking water from any other source, though in the month of December plans for a new filter were finally submitted to and approved by the board. In the winter of 1903-4 the distributing reservoir again became very nearly exhausted, so that if a large fire or an accident to the works had occurred it would have been necessary to introduce the sewage polluted water of the Merrimack river directly into the city's supply.

During the past summer, also, nothing has been done by the city to avert the calamity of introducing the unfiltered Merrimack river water from which the city has twice barely escaped. The responsibility for the present condition rests upon the city government, which in spite of the warnings given, has not seen fit to make provisions for protecting the lives and health of the people of the city from the danger to which they are now exposed.

TO RAISE SALARIES OF COUNTY OFFICIALS.

A petition came into the senate Monday from practically all the district attorneys and assistant district attorneys in the state. The title of the bill is to fix the salaries of the district attorneys and practically every case
it means an increase.

Among the signers of the petition is
W. Scott Peters of Haverhill, district attorney for Essex county.

The basis of fixing the salaries is that of population, and it will not change the present salary of the district attorney, it will raise the salary of the assistant district attorney, H. C. Atwill of Lynn, from $1400 to $1600.

It also provides that in those districts having an assistant district attorney, his salary shall be two-thirds of that of his chief. The bill provides that the travelling expenses of the district attorneys shall be paid by the commonwealth. The bill was referred to the committee on public service and sent down to the house.

EXTENDED CALL TO REV. SAM-UEL BEAN

At an adjourned meeting of the members of the Old North Unitarian church at North Andover Centre on Tuesday afternoon it was voted to extend the call to the Rev. Samuel Bean who has preached several times at the church. He is a man of middle age and is married but there are no children. He is the son of the Rev.
Samuel Bean of Newburyport who has been for many years the pastor of a church in that city.

At the present time Rev. Mr. Bean is not located. His last pastorate was in New Jersey.

Daniel Carleton was moderator of the meeting adjourned from Saturday afternoon. Sam D. Stevens was clerk.

SUSPECTED LEPER LEFT FOR PARTS UNKNOWN.

NEWBURYPORT, Jan. 10.—Yee Toy,
the Chinese laundryman who is afflicted with a skin disease similar to leprosy and who was to have been further examined by an agent of the Rev. Samuel Bean of health this afternoon has left for parts unknown. He was supposed to have been in strict quarantine but the police claim that the board of health
did not formally notify them to close
the Chinaman's place until this noon,
and when they went there no trace of
him could be found.

Word was sent to Marshal Lattin
last night that the disease might prove to be leprosy.

The marshal notified the chairman of the board of health who at once sent
Dr. Pilling to investigate the case. Dr.
Pilling with Dr. Noyes made an examination, but they were unable to determine its nature.

Chairman Banley ordered the police
to notify Yee Toy not to take in any more work until the case was decided.
He also instructed Dr. Pilling to telegraph Dr. Abbott of the state board of health and request him to come to town.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CAT-ARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY

as mercury will surely destroy the sense
of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians,
as the damage they would do is tenfold
the good you can possibly derive from them.

Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J.
Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, Price 75c. per bottle.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

police claim that the board of health
did not formally notify them to close
the Chinaman's place until this noon,
and when they went there no trace of
him could be found.

Word was sent to Marshal Lattin
last night that the disease might prove
to be leprosy.

The marshal notified the chairman of
the board of health who at once sent
Dr. Pilling to investigate the case. Dr.
Pilling with Dr. Noyes made an examination, but they were unable to determine its nature.

Chairman Banley ordered the police
to notify Yee Toy not to take in any more work until the case was decided.
He also instructed Dr. Pilling to telegraph Dr. Abbott of the state board of health and request him to come to town.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense
of smell and completely derange the
whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles
should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians,
as the damage they would do is tenfold
the good you can possibly derive from
them.

Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufac-

DECREASE IN DEATHS FOR YEAR

The number of deaths as recorded by Town Clerk James W. Litch for the year 1904 shows a decrease over the year 1903. The total number in 1904 was 66 and in 1903, 79. This is a falling off of 13.

SUPPER, ROLL CALL AND ELECTION.

The roll call and annual election of the Congregational church held on Tuesday evening in the church vestry was prefaced by a bounteous supper served by the church social committee. The supper included many good things to which the 50 and more present did ample justice. The supper consisted of escalloped oysters, cold ham, rolls, cakes and coffee, pickles.

George H. Hathorne said grace before the commencement of the meal and at the close Deacon Charles E. Stillings offered thanks.

The social committee in charge of the supper to which much credit is given is N. P. Frye, chairman, Edward Butterworth, Mrs. George L. Harris, Mrs. George A. Smith, Mrs. E. E. Chesley, Mrs. George Dickey and Miss Mary Stewart. Mrs. Butterworth assisted.

A vocal solo was nicely rendered by Miss Annie E. Sanborn accompanied on the piano by Miss Elizabeth M. Saunders, previous to the business of the evening.

The church roll was called by the clerk, D. W. Carney, and many present responded with passages of Scripture and some absentees by letter. Remarks were made by N. P. Frye, Deacon Charles E. Stillings and George E. Hathorne.

An unanimous vote of regret was passed upon motion of Mr. Stillings that Mrs. J. M. Stone was unable to be present.

Senior Deacon Joseph H. Stone presided at the meeting. The clerk read his record of the last annual meeting and this was accepted. Reports were received from the clerk, auditor and treasurer and church committee which were accepted. They showed the various departments of the church to be in good condition. The Sunday school is in a particularly flourishing condition at the present time.

A committee of three including Deacon Stillings, Edward Butterworth and Miss Annie E. Sanborn was selected to retire and bring in a list of nominations for the church officers. The committee reported that the old officers had been decided upon and the report of the committee being accepted the clerk was instructed to cast one ballot and they were duly elected. The officers are: D. W. Carney, clerk; Mrs. W. Frisbee, treasurer; George E. Hathorne, auditor; N. P. Frye, Victor B. Watts and Edward Butterworth the three elective members of the church committee and social committee. N. P. Frye chairman, Edward Butterworth, Mrs. William P. Page, Mrs. George L. Following the installation a bounteous repast was served in the banquet preparations and served the supper.

WAS OLDEST RESIDENT OF EXETER.

EXETER, N. H., Jan. 7.—Exeter has lost its oldest person by the death Friday night of Mrs. Eliza Ann Rundlett, who on Oct. 15 entered upon her 99th year. She was then in excellent health except for impaired sight and hearing, and her mental faculties retained all their alertness. Much was made of the birthday, and next day she declared herself fully rested from the temporary fatigue it entailed. Toward the close of October she was attacked by a slight congestion of the bronchial tubes, followed by the grip, which left her very weak and though she finally rallied, overtaxed her remarkable vitality.

Mrs. Rundlett was born in Exeter where she had passed her entire life. Oct. 15, 1806, the oldest of the eight children of James E. and Mary E. Lord, and was the last of the family. In 1834 she married James Rundlett, who died in 1881.

Four of her five children survive, Mrs. Rundlett, William F. and Eliza J. Rundlett of Exeter, Lucinda A. wife of Rev. A. C. Gerrish of Bath, Me., and Charles E. Rundlett of Pawtucket, R. I. She left six grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Rundlett was the senior member of the First church, which she joined in 1836.

She was a near relative of William D. Rundlett of this town.

ANDOVER NEWS.

Basketball.

Last Saturday evening the Andover team defeated a team picked from the Alumni of the Cambridge High school by the score of 47-20. The game was a very rough one, Cambridge being penalized many times, principally for holding. Considering that the home team was composed almost wholly of substitutes, the game was a good one. Clifford and Capen excelled in throwing baskets, while Cushman put up his usual steady game. Cairns excelled for the visitors. The passwork of the Andover team was very good while that of the visiting team was poor.

Final score—Andover, 47; Cambridge 20. The line up was:

ANDOVER CAMBRIDGE H. S.
Cushman rf Cairns
Clifford lf Park
Capen c Robins
Murphy fg Ryan
Jones lg Lawson

Goals—Jones 3; Capen 6; Cushman 4; Clifford 8; Cairns 4; Park 3; Robins 3; Ryan 2. Referee—Humphries. Time-keeper, Dr. Page. Length of halves, 20 minutes.

Basketball Schedule.

The following schedule has been arranged by Manager R. C. Brown of the P. A. team:

Jan. 14, 7.30—Boston Y. M. C. A.
Jan. 21, 7.30—World's Champion.
Jan. 25, 4.00—Cushing Academy.
Jan. 28, 3.30—Harvard Varsity.

Feb. 1, 3.30—Boston College.

A TREMENDOUS PRODUCTION.

The Colonial, Lawrence.

Mr. Wright Lorimer's stupendous production of "The Shepherd King," with Mr. Wright Lorimer in the role of David, will begin a much talked of return engagement at the Majestic Theatre next Monday evening Jan. 16th. "The Shepherd King," it will be remembered, played a six weeks' engagement at the Majestic early in the season to capacity business, creating a most favorable impression. People from all over New England crowded the theatre to see this wonderful spectacle and it was a matter of regret both to Mr. Lorimer and the management of the Majestic theatre, that on account of contracts they were unable to arrange for an extension of the engagement. Since leaving Boston Mr. Lorimer has appeared four weeks in Baltimore and four weeks in Philadelphia to record breaking business. "The Shepherd King" will be presented during the forthcoming engagement, exactly as it was before and the cast aside from Mr. Lorimer will include Edward Mackay as Jonathan, Charles Kent as King Saul, May Buckley as Michal and Nelloette Reed as Merab. Matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday and as the engagement will be limited, early reservation of seats should be made.

RESINOL ART CALENDAR AND RECORD OF BABY'S DOINGS.

The new Resinol Art Calendar for 1905 is one of the most beautiful calendars ever issued. Six sheets of heavy enameled paper contain on one side six beautiful color designs of babies and children, while on the reverse sides are drawings depicting child life, with spaces for the notation of baby's "sayings and doings." It is a work of art that will delight a mother's heart. For next week the management promises that the program as arranged will be the greatest comedy bill ever offered in Lawrence and that the high standard of excellence inaugurated at this theatre in the past will be continued and that the key-note of the bill will be "It is to laugh." It is seldom that so many stars are brought together in one bill and the foremost on the list this week is Dan Quinlan and Harry Mack, late of the Quinlan & Wall minstrels in an up-to-date black face specialty. Then there is the operatic duo, T. W. Eckert and Emma Berg who present an act in keeping with the demands of the unsatisfied public. Eckert & Berg are old timers in the profession. This season they have a musical sketch entitled "The Land of the Two Moons." In addition to these two stars are moving pictures by the Edison Kinetograph, specialties by Banning & Hild who come direct from Europe. Waldorf & Mendez present an acrobatic act that is more than usually clever. The musical Craigs present a comedy musical act introducing the rendition of popular airs on various musical instruments. There is a colored specialty by the Harper Trio, and they are a whole show in themselves in their fun-making. The management is to be commended in securing for their first appearance here the famous Jack Trio, the marvelous European Equilibrists. The amateur nights are getting to be quite a fad at the Colonial and already a long list of entries are promised for next week's entertainment.
